The Emanating Power of Anointing: Yahshua's Virtue Of Light and Eternal Life

In the realm of the spiritual, the anointing of the Holy Spirit plays a pivotal role in connecting us with the divine power of Yahshua Jesus. Through this anointing, his virtue emanates from within him, bestowing light and eternal life upon those who connect with its transformative energy.

The Woman with an Issue of Blood

The account of the woman with an issue of blood (Mark 5:25-34) exemplifies the profound impact of Yahshua's anointing. Despite her affliction, she embarked on a journey of faith, convinced that merely touching the tassels of his pray shawl would bring her healing. As she approached him, her belief manifested the power of the anointing, and she was instantly healed and liberated from her ailment.

Paul's Anointing

In the life of Paul the Apostle, the anointing of the Spirit was tangible and transformative. Acts 19:11-12 records that even handkerchiefs and aprons touched by Paul carried the power of the anointing, bringing healing and deliverance wherever they were sent. This occurred not because of Paul himself, but because he was indwelt by Yahshua Jesus, the source of the anointing. As a result, the same anointing that flowed from Yahshua into Paul manifested in those who received the cloths.

The Abiding Anointing

When the anointing is received and embraced, it becomes an abiding presence within us. Those who carry this anointing become conduits of its power, enabling them to minister healing and deliverance to others. The Scriptures provide numerous examples of the anointing's transformative work:

The blind man in John 9: Yahshua's anointing through saliva and mud restored the man's sight.

The leper in Matthew 8: Yahshua's touch and anointing cleansed him from his disease.

The paralytic in Luke 5: Yahshua's forgiveness and healing power flowed through his anointing.

The demon-possessed man in Luke 8: Yahshua's authority and anointing expelled the evil spirits.
